

Rock steady: Blues man Seasick Steve leans on hostesses Bella Freud and Karma Nabulsi

High fliers: Noel Gallagher and wife Sara MacDonald

Model guests: Kate Moss and husband Jamie Ince, who sang a duet with Florence Welch

Family first: Jemma Jones, boyfriend Ben Goldsmith and sister Jemima Khan

DIARY OF THE WEEK

Co-ordinated by Sophia Beddow
Photos by Dominic O'Neill

HERE'S HOPING THEY DID GOOD

Leading lights from the worlds of rock, fashion and film joined Bella Freud and Karma Nabulsi, founders of the Hoping Foundation, at London's Cafe de Paris for a fundraising "Rock On" summer party to help Palestinian refugee children. The 260 guests – among them Kate Moss, Noel Gallagher, Hugh Grant, Chris Martin and Stella McCartney – drank champagne and enjoyed a dinner created by Michelin-starred chef Skye Gyngell before being entertained by Florence Welch, who sang a duet with Kate Moss's husband Jamie Ince, Parti Smith, Seasick Steve, Rizzle Kicks and Russell Brand. The evening, compered by Alan Carr, raised in excess of £340,000 for the cause.

Purple haze: Designer Stella McCartney

Chatty man: The evening's comper Alan Carr

